REPORT.

TRANSPORTATION AND TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT,
Harrisburg, Pa., December 1, 1866.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit the following report of the operations of the Transportation and Telegraph Department, for the year ending the 30th ultimo:

Applications for transportation for the recovery of bodies of deceased soldiers of Pennsylvania regiments have sensibly diminished since last year. The whole number of persons, to whom transportation has been issued from this Department, is three hundred and sixteen, (316;) and from the Washington Military Agency, as shown by the report of Col. Jordan, one hundred and ten, (110.) The issue of transportation to the Nashville agency ceased on the first of April, ultimo, the date of Col. Chamberlin's resignation as Military Agent at that point.

The number of accounts for reimbursement under the commutation allowance of two (2) cents per mile, when transportation has not been, or could not be furnished by the State, and for the expenses of disinterment, has been largely increased. Two hundred and eighty-eight (288) such claims have been adjusted and paid during the year, and there now remains on file in this Department, for settlement, over one hundred (100) more.

The establishment of National cemeteries, thus gathering together the remains of those whose lives were sacrificed in defence of our national existence, scattered over the many battle-fields and lines of march of our armies, and the erection of enduring monuments to their memories, is the discharge of a high and sacred duty by the nation to her dead heroes and their living friends.

Congress, during its last session, provided for transportation, at government expense, of all disabled soldiers in procuring artificial limbs. All applications for this purpose, from Pennsylvania soldiers, before granted by this Department, under a liberal construction of the volunteer relief acts, are now referred to the Quartermaster General's Office, at Washington, D. C.

This beneficent and christian policy of care to the crippled, and honor to the dead, on the part of the General Government, has operated principally to the reduction of the demand on the State for transportation, before referred to.

I would here mention, for the information of all concerned, that the Quartermaster General of the United States is engaged in the compilation of complete lists, giving the names, regiments, &c., of all bodies gathered into the National cemeteries. From these lists, the exact locality of particular graves can be readily learned.

On my return from visiting, under your direction, the prison grave-yards of union soldiers in the Southern sea-board States, I addressed to your Excellency a letter, giving a full and correct statement of the condition of these burying places, and my impression as to the feasibility of removing the Pennsylvanians there buried. This letter, of date January 16, 1866, together with a letter from Col. Chamberlin, who, from the Nashville agency, made a similar tour of inspection in the Military Department of the South-west, was published in many of the newspapers of the State, and was, I believe, effective in allaying much of the apprehension felt by kindred and friends, that these graves, of those dear to them, were abandoned to insult and obliteration.

On the 12th of January last, I succeeded in arranging with the Baltimore Steam Packet company, for the acceptance of our orders of transportation. The rate charged the State by this company, is two (2) cents per mile.—This arrangement has saved to both individuals and the State, a great part of the former expense of travel, and greatly facilitates the removal of bodies from about Richmond, and other points accessible by way of the Chesapeake bay and James river.

This Department has furnished transportation to persons necessarily traveling in the military service of the Commonwealth, and has settled all accounts for transportation of munitions of war, quartermaster's stores, &c.

Tabular statements, showing the expenditures of the Department, on account of transportation, telegraphing, &c., during the year, are herewith appended:—
